The Tribune's Washington special says:

A new paper, to be called the Reconstructionist, edited by Mrs. Swisshelm, is to be immediately commenced here. A Times special says:

Col. Morgan, Supt. of the New York Soldiers Agency, has been in Washington for several days and is consumating arrangements with the military authorities for the care of disabled New York soldiers. It is contemplated to fit up at once the Ira Harris Hospital at Albany for temperary use as a soldiers' home.

Maj. W.H. Gibblin and Geo. E. Taylor, rebel Quarter-master, and Robert Heith, private in the rebel service in the breaking up of Lee's army, were in Richmond and had about $47,000 in gold belonging to the rebel government in their possession. After leaving Richmond, Heth, under orders from Taylor and Gibbin, buried about $20,000 of the amount near the Dan river, in North Carollina, which they subsequently dug up and spent freely in and about Richmond.—The facts becoming known to the Government Taylor and Heth, about two weeks ago, were arrested in Richmond and brought to this city and placed in the Old Capital. It is supposed that nearly all the money has been spent by them, but the Government has succeeded in obtaining possession of about $4,000 of it. The prisoners are still held to await further developements.

The Tribune's special says: The German witness, Beaume, who figured extensively in the Wirz trial, has been dismissed from the Interior department, it having been shown that he was a deserter from the 7th New York Steuben regiment. His real name is Felix Oessel.

From the Valley of Virginia.

New York, Nov. 25.—The Herald's special says:
Gentlemen—some of them ex-rebel soldiers—who have recently come up to Washington from the Valley of Virginia, report the condition of things throughout that portion of the State to be highly satisfactory for the coming winter. All classes of farmers have succeeded in harvesting crops of grain sufficient for home consumption, and many will have a surplus of corn and bacon for export to the less fortunate regions of central Georgia and western North Carolina. Mysteriously enough, money has come to be plenty for the North Carolina. Mysteriously enough, money has come to be plenty for the purpose of trade and the payment of taxes, and it is used a great deal more liberally than these people were accustomed to use it in years before the war. It is chiefly used in plantation improvements, new buildings, fences, &c. Central Virginia has been reinforced since the war by many live Yankee farmers, although this fact may not be generally known, and they have not only lived down Old Dominion prejudices against their class, but have imbued the easygoing Virginian farmers with something of the Yankee spirit of progress, More of them will be welcome, and land will be sold them cheap.
